Ward 1 voters turn out in droves for Waveland election

Despite a record turnout of voters, residents of Ward 1 in Waveland will still be facing a runoff election to choose a new alderman. A run-off will be held next Tuesday, Aug. 24, between Mickey Lagasse and Mark Thomas. All Ward 1 may vote in the run-off, even if they did not vote in the initial election.

Nearly 500 voters turned out to support four candidates. Jay Fountain, Mickey Lagasse, Mark Thomas and George Yarbrough. Final numbers show 218 votes for Thomas, 131 votes for Lagasse, 93 for Yarbrough 46 for and Fountain. To carry the election, a candidate must win half of the votes cast, plus one vote.

The position was vacated in May when Keith Mitchell handed in his resignation. Mitchell said a demanding job did not allow him the time he felt was necessary to serve the city.

Family, friends and supporters of the candidates filled the Waveland City Hall Annex to await the results Tuesday evening. After the results were in, candidates and their families spilled out into the parking lot, visiting and passing on

23 indicted for dog fightin

BY GEOFF BELCHER News Editor

A Hancock County grand jury this week handed down cued, some were still just indictments for 23 people arrested in January in connection with an alleged dogfighting ring near Kiln.

Kenneth Larousse of Picayune and a Baton Kevin Rouge couple, Mary and Valentine Kennerson, were indicted for sponsoring or promoting a fight between dogs - a felony charge which carries a three-year prison term in case of a conviction. Larousse was also indicted for unlawful possession of a firearm by a convicted felon.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies, animal control officers, Waveland Animal Shelter workers and volunteers impounded 28 American pit bull terriers from the scene in January. Most of the dogs had to be euthanized, either because they had been too badly injured in fighting or because they were deemed too dangerous.

"This is not the dogs' fault," Charles West. a veterinarian and board member of the Friends of the Animal Shelter in Hancock County, said at the time. "It's the peoples' faults, and I wish every one of them could be charged with not just one, but 28 counts each of cruelty to animals."

Deputy Tim Campbell, Sgt. Jason Chandler and Sgt. Doug Ladner were responding to an anonymous 911 hang-up call at Lewis Lane just off Hwy. 43 northwest of Kiln on the evening of Saturday, Jan. 10. when they were forced to stop because the road was blocked by dozens of cars parked on and near property owned by Kenneth Larousse, 46, according to Investigator Matt Barnett.

When they went to investigate, Barnett said, Campbell recognized the scene as a dog fight immediately "because we had been involved in a dog fighting bust we both worked in 1992 in Pearl River County."

Barnett said it appeared the deputies arrived on the scene just before the actual fighting was about to begin.

The three men were able to apprehend 22 people at the scene. Dozens more fled into the woods, he said. Most of the fleeing suspects left their cars behind because the deputies had them blocked in. The sheriff's department impounded 18 vehicles, Barnett said, some of them containing weapons, marijuana and even a large amount of cash.

After obtaining a search warrant from Judge Ricky Adam, investigators on the scene worked late into the night and much of the next day, Barnett said, along Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Hancock animal control officers, Waveland Animal Shelter workers, the Mississippi Dept. of Fish & Wildlife and volunteers including West.

In addition to weapons, cash and illicit substances on the property, Barnett said, investigators found several cages full of dogs bearing scars from previous fights and the rotting carcasses of a few dead dogs; along with treadmills, animal cages and a huge cache of veterinary supplies.

The "pit" at the Larousse property had been outfitted with outdoor lighting and "Most of the dogs were really, really friendly," Barnett said. "The lady from Animal Control walked right up to them and petted them. ... But if they got close to another dog, then you had a problem."

Two dogs had to be euthanized at the scene because they began attacking each

The money, Filter said, proved to be absolutely essential. The cost per year in training and travel expenses, as well as maintaining the boat came to $120,000 a year. Atkins does not sponsor the team in the actual Olympic games, since that is Olympic Committee

"We realized that when you're dealing with a 21-foot keel boat, things could get very expensive. We wanted to go to all the international regattas. We wanted the best coaching and equipment. Atkins came through for 2 years, funding everything."

Most of all, though, Filter said the support of her family and friends accounted for her success.

Remembering Camille

s I write this column I can recall a night of a "nightmare" some 35 years ago which was actually reality - and continued for many months to follow.

At around 10 p.m. August night, that Hurricane Camille crossed the Bay St. Louis-Waveland area and the Mississippi Gulf Coast causing damages never witnessed in modern times.

Winds were estimated to have been 200-225 miles per hour. By August 19, Camille was crossing Memphis.

A tropical depression had formed on August 14 in the Caribbean near Grand Caymen. After crossing the tip of Cuba into the Gulf of Mexico, it was a hurricane on August 16.

On Sunday, August 17, an air force plane forced its way into the eye of the storm and found the barometric pressure to be 26.61 inches. That represented the lowest barometric reading ever recorded on the western hemisphere.

As Camille struck the coast, all tide gauges were destroyed, and it was necessary to get tide stages from high water marks.

These marks taken at Mean Sea Level in Mobile were: Pascagoula 10 to 11 feet; Biloxi, 15.5 to 20 feet: Gulfport, 20 feet; Pass Christian, 21.4 feet; and Bay St. Louis 20 feet. The Army Engineers said waves on top of these static high tides were considerably higher and there had been sufficient evidence to verify the statement.

I have been told that at the top of the hill at Avenue, Nicholson* Waveland, water reached six feet. This was four feet higher then in the 1947 hur-

Strange as it may seem, once again in these milestone observances, either this state, or some political figures from Mississippi, played a role, inglorious to be sure, in the downfall of Nixon.

Mississiddi

By Bill Minor

Oddly, two weeks ago, Fred Larue, a Mississippian who was one of the key figures in the White House cover-up of the break-in at the Watergate offices of Democratic National Party, died in Biloxi at age 75.

Hey, anybody remember Watergate?

A onetime prominent Mississippi oilman, Larue in 1969 had been appointed an aide in the Nixon White House. Actually, his presence on the Nixon staff was a mystery. He held no title and was not listed in the White House directory. massive Α

Senate investigation into Watergate scandal followed amazing disclosures Washington Post reporters Carl Bernstein and Bob Woodard that the White House was connected with the burglars who were caught after breaking into the DNC Watergate offices.

Out of the weeks-long Senate hearings, it was revealed that Larue was the bagman who paid $350,000 in hush money to the Watergate conspirators.

Larue was indicted in 1974, later pleaded guilty and served 136 days in a federal prison before he was paroled. For years thereafter he lived at Gulf Hills on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, declining to talk about Watergate.

An early leader and financial backer in building the Mississippi GOP in the 1960s, when Larue was given the White House post it was regarded as a reward for state Republicans, backing of Nixon's 1968 "Southern Strategy" that helped him win the election.

Nixon announced his resignation as president on August 9, 1974, declaring that next day then-Vice-President Gerald Ford would become president.

Ford, then a Michigan congressman, had been appointed to the Veep job only weeks before by Nixon, adding more high drama to Nixon's historic downfall.

Ford replaced Vice-President Spiro Agnew, who had been forced to resign when a payoff scandal and tax fraud scandal from his previous job as Maryland's governor came to light.

Only six days before Nixon would resign, and he would become president, Ford had come to Jackson on a warm Aug. 3 to speak outside the War Memorial Building.

I made it my business to go hear him, even though I was on vacation from my Mississippi correspondent's job with The Times-Picayune at the time.

What amazed me was that only about 300 Mississippians showed up to hear Ford, even though anyone who had closely followed the unfolding Watergate case building against Nixon should have realized that here was an opportunity to see and hear the man who would likely soon become president.

When I conveyed my own feelings to some unbelievers that day, I quickly grasped that a great many Mississippians were either

Keep our children safe from diabetes

Dear Editor:

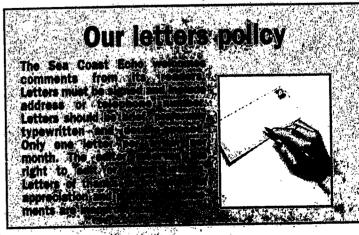

We know you know your ABC's...but what about Dfor diabetes? As schools in our state open their doors to welcome students back, The Diabetes Foundation of Mississippi would like to take the opportunity to remind you of our special school program. It's Not a Sweet Subject is an educational program designed to inform teachers, school and daycare staff about caring for a child with diabetes in the classroom. The increasing prevalence of diabetes in our children makes it essential for these instructors to have an understanding of diabetes and its management in order to provide a safe school environment.

and allow children to participate fully in the "school experience.

Children with diabetes not only need to have accommodations made for them, but also need enlightened school faculty capable of recognizing and treating high and low blood sugars in their students. For over six years, the Diabetes Foundation of Mississippi has provided this free program to schools throughout the state. Hancock Grand Jury report for August

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI FINAL REPORT OF THE FEBRUARY 2004 TERM GRAND JURY TO THE HONORABLE CIRCUIT COURT JUDGE KOSTA N.

VLAHOS We, the February 2004, Grand Jury of Hancock County, Mississippi, having been duly selected, sworn, impaneled and charged respectfully submit our Final Report.

We were impaneled on February 3, 2004, and were in session February 26, 2004, March 10, 2004, March 25, 2004, April 1, 2004, April 29, 2004, May 13, 2004, June 24, 2004, July 8, 2004 and July 15, 2004 for a total of 9 days. During this time we considered a total of 231 cases. We returned 72 No True Bills: True Bills 151 Indictment; 7 cases were passed to the next Grand Jury; and 1 was case docketed in error. Of these 151 True Bills of Indictment, 11 were returned as Habitual Offenders and 8 were between various jurisdicreturned as Enhanced Penalty.

The following speakers appeared before the Grand Jury to discuss their responsibilities: 1. Todd Matthews, MS

Forestry Commission

County Sherin Ladner, 3. Jimmy Hancock County

Assessor-Collector 4. David Kopf, Hancock County Superintendent of Education

The Grand Jury visited the Hancock County Jail. The jail appears relatively clean and maintained. The Grand Jury recommends that the sheriff continue to conduct an evaluation of the jail to address maintenance and safety within the jail facility. The Grand Jury recommends that the sheriff's department reconsider the inmate no-smoking policy in the inmate recreation yard. 2. This Grand Jury noted considerable differences tions in the preparation and presentation of cases. The grand Jury recommends that all law enforcement agencies work to collect and preserve evidence needed for successful prosecutions in felony DUI cases such as applying for a search war-2. Steve Garber, Hancock rant to obtain blood for toxi-

> The Grand Jury recommends that whenever possible, law enforcement obtain clear audio and video of undercover drug investigations and DUI investigations. We also recommend that confiscated drug money should be used to purchase surveillance equipment whenever possible enhance case quality.

The Grand Jury recommends that the several law enforcement agencies in Hancock County work with each other and work to share resources and information that would assist in the prosecution of cases.

congratulations and best wishes to their opponents.

Both Thomas and Lagasse said they planned to spend a busy week stepping up their campaigning efforts.

Thomas said he was grateful to the people who voted for him and to the other candidates for their professionalism in conducting the campaign.

"It was an awesome experience and we are planning to work very hard this week," he said. "I am dedicated and ready to serve the people of Waveland. I hope people realize the importance of coming out to vote on Tuesday."

But however the runoff goes, Thomas says, in his heart he has already won.

"God has given me this opportunity and in my heart I have already won because of all the wonderful people I have met during the campaign," said Thomas.

Lagasse said he was also pleased with the way the campaign had gone.

"I'm excited and honored that the turnout was so great. It was wonderful," said Lagasse. We are planning on spending the next week making sure that people remember to get out and vote and reminding people of my qualifications. We are on the brink of something great here in Waveland with so many projects pending and we need to go forward with making sure that infrastructure is updated, that green space is set aside and that sidewalks are built well. Superintendent David Kopf said that while he was pleased with the success, the district was always looking for ways to improve.

Scores -- state testing

"We're always striving for excellence," Kopf said yesterday. "We're always happy when we meet with success. We're always looking for areas to improve. It's a lot like winning the Superbowl. You're happy, but you want win next year's Superbowl as well. We're very appreciative of teachers, support staff, parents, and students."

The state reported an especially high increase in middle school scores, particularly in mathematics. Kopf said that middle schools in Hancock County showed similar trends.

"The middle school has always, from year to year improved, but we saw significant improvement this year. There was definitely significant improvement in mathematics, but also reading, and language."

The more skills we have, we can meet more students needs. If there's a program out there that can assist us with reading, we look at that program.

"It's a combined effort. Our theme is 'excellence together,' and that's what it takes."

Dr. Kim Stasny, superinof tendent Bay/Waveland school district, echoed Konf's senti-

"As far as our district goes, I truly believe that it's been the result of an effort of over the past three or four years," Stasny said. "The students, parents, teachers and school board members have all become focused on what we need to do for achievement. This is just a by-product of that focus."

The figures on page 9A (facing page) detail the percentages of Hancock County students who tested at either minimal, basic, proficient or advanced levels. In high schools, however, only the percentage of how many students passed each course was recorded. These results reflect student performance from fall 2003 until the spring of 2004.

Attention Restaurant Owners...

Algebra I

Advertising is an investment in the success of your restaurant. Every restaurant has competition, either within the town, or nearby city. Your potential customers are being courted by your competitors. If you do not invite those customers to do business with you, they are likely to forget you and dine elsewhere. It is not uncommon for consumers to switch their dining habits from one restaurant to another. Advertising helps to keep old customers and equally as important, make new ones.

Our community is constantly growing which means that potential customers are moving into the market area all the time. Advertising gives these newcomers a reason to visit your restaurant.

Most businesses budget for their advertising expenses just as they do for other necessities such as rent, phones, etc.

Most businesses budget for their advertising expenses just as they do for other necessities such as rent, phones, etc. Smart business people realize that advertising is imperative to keep their business growing.

Another reason to advertise is that advertising is news! You profit by telling our readers what is new in your restaurant. Through advertising, you can let a wide audience know what specials you are offering, perhaps what entertainment you may have and the character of your restaurant.

If you have something to sell, then you have something to advertise. When you have nothing to advertise, you are out of business. Advertising is designed to build your business and, works best when it is repeated regularly. Consistent advertising pays off!

Now that you know some of the reasons to advertise; you're probably wondering how you can advertise most effectively. Surveys show that ads in local newspapers have Sgt., Thomas Staff Newkirk, 37, is no stranger to overseas missions. He was in the Middle East during Desert Storm, he said, and feels he knows at least something about what to expect when he arrives.

Like many of the men, he will be leaving behind family. Newkirk and his wife Towanda have five children. And like most, he says he will miss his family, but feels a sense of duty to serve his country when called to do so.

"I think it is the overall feeling in the unit ... we will be doing what we were trained to do when we signed on the dotted line ... it is our duty and we are ready to go," said Newkirk. "We want to make sure we go and do what needs to be done and make our families and the people back home proud of us.'

 $\mathbf{Sgt}.$ Lance Platoon Stanford served in Bosnia. He will also leave family behind, a wife and two daughters. Stanford just found out he will become a father again in April, but he is dedicated to his service.

The way I look at it is, I will do whatever the Commander-in-Chief wants me to do to defend the country," he said. "This will be the first one I have missed (birth of his children), but my wife understands ... I've been in the service for 22

"We train as we fight," he said. "In full body armor and with the weapons that will be used. But the unit is going with the idea to maintain peace and security. Olier said. "We aren't looking for a fight."

Besides combat training. the men will be given a crash course in the culture

TEN YEARS AGO

August 11, 1994 - Two teenagers got a little more then they bargained for yesterday after allegedly stealing a go-cart, breaking into a hunting camp and then attempting to steal two four Investigator wheelers. George Burleson with the Hancock County Sheriff's Department said yesterday that they arrested brothers 14 and 15, from the Saucier community, and charged them with breaking and entering and grand larceny. The two allegedly stole a gocart from tranquility Trails and rode from Highway 49 to Highway 53 on the highway. "It's a wonder they didn't get killed riding on the highway. Burleson said.

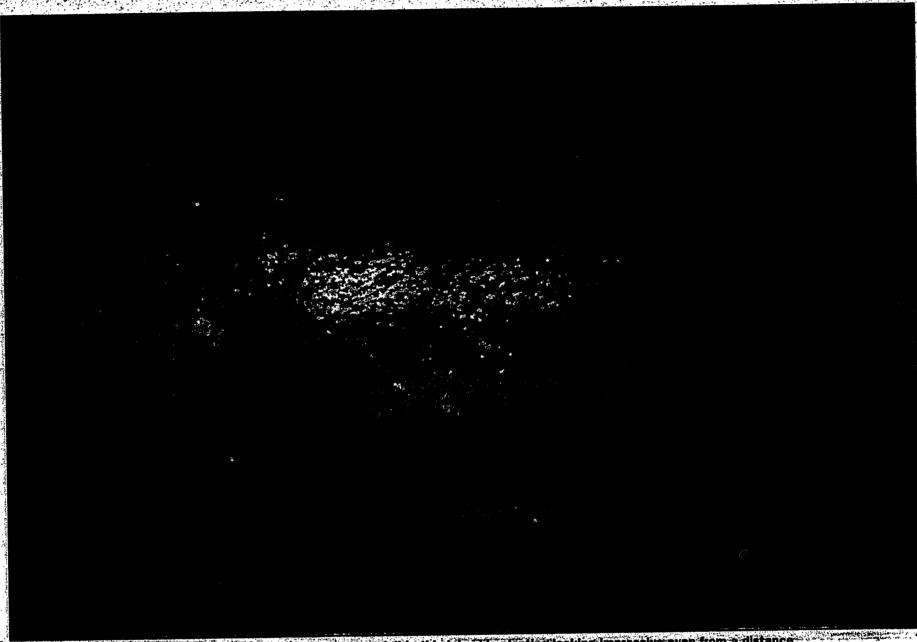

-Four mothers voiced their frustrations over the new school bus schedules at the board meeting of the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District Monday night. High school students will start classes at 7:55 a.m., and continue to 2:55 p.m. and the elementary schedule is from 8:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. The school system hopes the rescheduling will help with over crowding on the buses. With the new arrangements, younger students will not have to ride the buses with the high schoolers and older brothers, and sisters will be at home to welcome them.

TWENTY YEARS AGO August 16, 1984 -

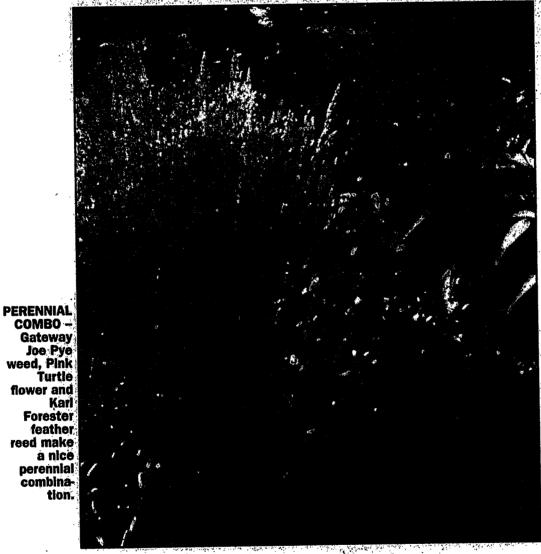

Hancock County will be featured Monday at the New Orleans's World Fair. The "Salute to Hancock County" day will be held in the Mississippi Pavilion on the World's Fair site, and will include a 20-minute opening ceremony. Hancock County, Bay St. Louis and Waveland elected officials and celebrities will participate. Local craftsmen to be demonstrating their talents include Lucile Luke and Ellsworth R. Collins.

-Three competitors in the Mr. and Ms. Southern States Body Building at the Championship Saenger Theater in Biloxi Saturday are Hancock County residents, as well as two judges in the event. reporter once asked me, "If you could convince all garden centers to sell one perennial, what would it be?" The answer was simple for me: the Joe Pye weed.

Since that question was asked a little over a year ago, I have found more of them for sale. One garden center I visited even had three varieties. This time of year when a lot of plants are starting to look a little rough, the Joe Pye weed is showing out. Not only does it draw the attention of passers-by, but also it attracts scores of swallowtail butterflies and bees.

I imagine out there somewhere, someone wonders why I am promoting a weed. Don't let the name throw you. This relative of the chrysanthemum is loved worldwide and has made it into gardens everywhere. Here, unfortunately, many people just admire it on the roadsides where it is native.

Legend has it that Joe Pye was a Native American Indian who used the plant to:cure fever. While Joe Pye weed's medicinal properties

PRCC names tennis coach

Pearl River Community College has named Jessica F. Olson its new men's and women's tennis coach, replacing longtime coach Soulier, who Camille resigned last spring to focus on her teaching responsibilities at the school.

Olson, a native of Wiggins, has an extensive tennis background. She lettered five years at Stone County High School, where she was selected as a Mississippi Tennis All-Star. She went on to play two years at Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College, where she played No. 1 singles. While at MGCCC, she was also a member of the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society.

Olson then signed with the University of Southern Mississippi and played two years in singles and doubles for the Golden Eagles. She graduated from USM with a B.A. in English and a minor in Latin, and was a member of the Conference USA Commissioner's Honor Roll. She then served as an assistant coach for one year.

"I have been wanting to get into coaching, especially at the junior college level," said Olson. "When I saw this job open up, I jumped at the opportunity because there are a lot of good tennis prospects in the Pearl River strict. You can pull players from the Forrest and Lamar County area, as well as the Gulf Coast area."

You bet it is, but our competitors want you to believe you can actually purchase a new vehicle for thousands less than they pay for it. After you arrive, you are informed you do not qualify for that price because of specific manufacturer program and rebate requirements or that it has just been sold!

FORTY YEARS AGO August 13, 1964 - A Negro sculptor whose talents have earned him international acclaim in his field received top accolades from his home town of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, Tuesday afternoon when Mayor John A. Scafide presented him with a key to the city in recognition of his accom-

Sculptorplishment. painter-author Richmond Barthe, who has lived in Jamaica since 1947, told a throng of white and Negro admirers assembled for the occasion in the parlor of St. Augustine Seminary that his visit this year to the four titles in 1984 Mr. and United States was a "sentimental journey" and his gleanings from it would take a food 50 years to transpose into art. This is his first visit to Bay St. Louis in 10 years and it follows the arrival in early of his gift to his native city of a piece of his work. He felt his hometown should have a sample of his sculpture and when he learned that Mrs. Thelma Heller, daughter of Mrs. Katherine Wilson, librarian at City-County Memorial Library, was living in Jamaica also he chose her as his subject for a permanent gift to the city. -Southern Realty blasted Trapani's 10-2 Tuesday night to win the third and deciding game of the 1964 men's softball league's playoffs. CYO captured the consolation honors by downing are not known, its placement as a landscape perennial is a sure thing.

The Joe Pye is known botanically as Eupatorium, and we find several species that gather under the Joe Pye name. The native most often seen is Eupatorium purpureum, a variety that produces rose-pink flowers on stalks that may reach 6 to 8 feet tall. Place these toward the back of the border.

Very similar is the E. fistulosum, sometimes called Giant Joe Pye weed. This variety has been reported to reach 12 feet tall, but it is normally in the 7- to 8-foot

The impetus for a rise in popularity, however, may be two shorter selections.

The first is called Gateway, a variety of E. maculatum that reaches only 4 feet tall. This one came to us courtesy of Nursery Bailey's Minneapolis-St. Paul. I am growing it in a mixed container on the deck and absolutely love it. This one has found great favor throughout the Southeast.

The other has become almost as popular as Gateway and goes by the name of Chocolate. It is a selection of E. rugosum. Its bronze leaves pair up nicely with its deep-pink flowers. The plant may be a little shorter than Gateway.

Regardless of the one you choose, remember that the Joe Pye does best in fertile, loamy soil. To look their best they will need supplemental water during the summer, especially since now is their peak season. Plant them at least 3 feet apart.

Once they get started, you may feel like you can gather the neighbors to come over and watch them grow. With this rapid growth, you may find it to your liking to pinch a couple of times to encourage branching.

Watch for the spread of volunteers and seedlings, and remove the unwanted plants. Rest assured someone in the neighborhood will Continued from Page 1B probably like a start. Use the Joe Pye with Purple Fountain grass, Salvia guaranitica selections and Goldsturm rudbeckia. Joe Pye is hardy from zones 4 through 9, so just about everyone can enjoy its beauty including the butterflies that are sure

NASA INVITES COMMENT ON THE PROPOSED CLEAN UP PLAN FOR AREA H AT THE JOHN C. STENNIS SPACE CENTER

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) has completed its evaluation of Areas H and I at the John C. Stennis Space Center in Hancock County, Mississippi. NASA has recommended No Further Action for Area I, and identified pump and treat of contaminated groundwater followed by natural attenuation as the clean up remedy for Area H. The public is invited to comment on the Proposed Plan for Area H. The Proposed Plan for Area H and the reports on which it was based can be reviewed by contacting NASA's Environmental Officer (see below), or by visiting the following location:

Hancock County Library, 312 Highway 90, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520, (228) 467-5282

GROUNDWATER ALTERNATIVES EXAMINED FOR AREA H

Alternative 1: No Remedial Action. No remedial action would be taken to address contaminated groundwater. This alternative is required by CERCLA to establish a baseline for comparison to other alternatives. Alternative 2: Groundwater Pump and Treat. This remedy would involve the installation of extraction wells and a water treatment system. Contaminated groundwater will be extracted from the ground using a series of extraction wells, treated at the surface in a water treatment system using ion exchange and granular activated carbon, and discharged to SSC's Wastewater Treatment System, which is an approved, permitted outfall. Use of the system will be discontinued when the contaminant concentrations level off and pumping is no longer effective in extracting contaminants. The remaining contaminant levels would be reduced by natural degradation.

Alternative 3: In Situ Biological Treatment. Naturally growing microorganisms would be used to degrade organic contaminants in the groundwater.

Alternative 4: In Situ Chemical Treatment and In Situ Biological Treatment. This alternative would include installing a treatment wall in the ground that contains ion exchange resin and using naturally growing microorganisms to degrade contaminants in the groundwater.

> NASA HAS IDENTIFIED ALTERNATIVE 2. GROUNDWATER PUMP AND TREAT, AS THE PREFERRED ALTERNATIVE FOR AREA H. YOUR COMMENTS ON THE PROPOSED PLAN ARE IMPORTANT TO NASA.

Written comments on the Proposed Plan for Area H will be accepted from August 15, 2004 to September 15, 2004. Please send your comments to:

> Ms. Anne Peek, NASA Environmental Officer Code RA02 Stennis Space Center, MS 39529-6000 (228) 688-2004

After considering all comments NASA will select a final clean up strategy for Area H.

careful with over the counter products, those intended for use on dogs, even puppies, can be toxic to cats! A cat is NOT a small dog, even "just a little" of some of these products can cause seizures and death in cats. Don't waste your money on flea collars, and while "natural" remedies like garlic, herbs, and various essential oils may have some repellant qualities, they aren't sufficient to provide complete control in our flea-friendly climate. Also, remember, "natural" doesn't necessarily mean safe, anything strong enough to have a beneficial effect is also strong enough to have potentially harmful effects. Ridding your pet of fleas is only a small part of a successful control program.

Treating your entire living area is critical, because that's where the bulk of the flea population lives and procreates. Furniture cushions, carpet, bedding, and your yard can be full of fleas and fleas-to-be in the form of eggs and larvae. Your best bet if you have a serious infestation, is to contact a professional pest control company. Getting the job tor for Emeril Live!, will conduct his percussion workshop on Friday, August 27 at 4:30 at the Lynn Meadows Discovery Center in Gulfport. The workshop is free and is open to adults and students.

Gibbs is one of the most sought after percussionists in the music industry today. He has toured or recorded with artists such as Erykah Badu, Al Jarreau, Whitney Houston and Ricki Lee Jones.

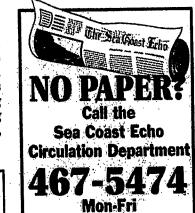

While on tour with the late Grover Washington, Jr., Grover introduced him as "Doc Gibbs", an apt name for a musician who "oper-.

rhythms with a vast assortment of traditional instruments. In 1997, Doc became the musical director for "Emeril Live" on the Food Network; and was given the opportunity to bring his band, Picante, to the world's attention as Doc Gibbs and the Emeril Live Band.

Doc is an outspoken advocate for music education, and conducts percussion workshops for children across the country. The workshop is educational, informative and involves participants in an exciting journey of the drum using instruments from Africa, Brazil and the Caribbean.

Blue crabs found near Bayou Caddy, Mississippi in a derelict trap during Mississippi's derelict trap removal. The crabs were released from the trap alive.

Derelict Crab Trap program wins 2nd place Gulf Guardian Award

The Gulf of Mexico recently announced that the Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission will receive a second place Gulf Guardian Award for 2004 in the Government Category for their work in removing derelict crab traps in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Alabama. The award will be presented at the Southern Environmental Conference and Exhibition scheduled Sept. 21, in Biloxi, beginning at 9 a.m.

doned in the Gulf of Mexico: Studies have shown that each derelict trap kills an average of 26 blue crabs per year. Stone crabs, red drum, seatrout. spotted sheepshead, mullet, raccoons, and opossums are also trapped and killed. Removing these traps prevents bycatch mortality and protects submerged seagrasses from the smothering effect of the traps. Removal also reduces user group conflicts and visual water pollution. Derelict crab traps result from numerous sources including the weather or hydrological factors such as tides, currents, and storm surges and the natural aging of buoys, lines, or knots. Traps can be lost when assembled or maintained improperly, and when lines are cut unintentionally by propellers or a way to recognize and intentionally by vandals. Even after fishermen lose or abandon traps, the traps continue to catch fish, crustaceans, turtles, and other organisms. The Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission worked in cooperation with the state marine resource agencies in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Alabama to remove derelict traps from their estuaries. The four state programs removed a total of 11.478 derelict traps during their Each year thousands of 2004 clean ups saving an crab traps are lost or aban-estimated 300,000 blue crabs. Public participation was crucial to the success of the removal programs -more than 100 community groups and 750 volunteers from diverse backgrounds were involved. "The Gulf Guardian

Institute for Marine Remote Sensing wins 3rd place Gulf Guardian Award THE SEA COAST ECHO understand the common

The Gulf of Mexico recently Program the announced that Institute for Marine Remote Sensing at the University of South Florida and the National Coastal Data Development Center at Stennis Space Center, Miss., will receive a third place Gulf Guardian Award for 2004 in the Government Category for the Harmful Algal Blooms Observing System (HABSOS). The award will be presented at Southern States Environmental Conference and Exhibition scheduled Sept. 21, in Biloxi, beginning at 9 a.m.

HABSOS is an ongoing multi-agency initiative, begun in 2001, to develop an Internet-based communication system for collecting, processing and disseminating HAB and relevant environmental data and information within the Gulf of Mexico.

HABSOS seeks to provide a forum to better dynamics and consequences of HAB events, and to assist state event response and management decision-making, including first alert, event validation, oyster bed and beach closure decisions, and public notification and interaction.

Most recently, Mexican Gulf States have joined HABSOS, resulting in a true international collaboration to monitor HAB dynamics without regard to political boundaries.
